

A Country Christmas Remembered

Old Fashioned Fun

DECEMBER 5-7, 2014

Come visit the heritage village of Spencerville for a weekend full of Christmas spirit and holiday cheer. Spend the whole weekend or just spend the day and explore what A Country Christmas Remembered has to offer.

Events like Country Connections invite visitors to explore life on the farm during the 1930s and have lots of hands-on demonstrations to take part in.

The Christmas Market features the work of many local food producers and artisans. Shop here for unique gifts and stocking stuffers or nibble on homemade sweets.

With so many things to see and do, just hop on or hop off the one-of-a-kind horse drawn carriage and arrive to your next destination in style.

Bundle up tightly and watch the Starlight Parade make its way through town. The parade begins at 7:00pm on December 5th. By request, the Edwardsburgh-Cardinal Firefighters Association asks for non-perishable food items for the Spirit of Giving.

Believe it or not, there are even more events happening over the weekend than the ones listed here! See www.acountrychristmas.ca for a full schedule of the weekend's events.
